closer.

We had an innovative idea.

We added a number of Serviced Residences to Assotech Business Cresterra so that none of your guests or clients who visit you will have to stay too far away. On occasion, if you wish, you can stay here too. On those late nights of hard work. On those long drawn weekends when you're finishing up the backlog.

Just like in the ancient days, emperors who waged wars for complete domination, always stayed close to the battlefield to monitor every movement, these serviced apartments are your own private living quarters as you move ahead in the world of business.
